Foot Rot Threatens Wheat In Panhandle

Rotation of Crops Recommended for Checking Disease

By County Agent W. H. Upchurch

Wheat crops may come and wheat crops may go, but the wheat growers troubles go on forever. It may be the markets. It may be the drouth, or perhaps the wire worm or some other pest that we have with us always. Whatever it may be, there is always something to take the joy out of living for the man who produces the staff of life.

I dislike to pose as a joy killer but there is one trouble in the path of wheat growers in the Texas Panhandle that should be brought to the attention of every one interested in the production of wheat in this section. It is the spread of the disease called foot rot in wheat. This disease has gained a stronger hold on the wheat soils of Randall county than most farmers realize. A few years ago it was found only in small spots in scattered locations over the county. Last year there was an area of several thousands acres of wheat in the county affected with this disease. Last year we had a good wheat year, yet the total yield of wheat in the county was cut considerably by the fungus called foot rot. This year owing to the unfavorable season for wheat, the disease shows up much more extensively. Many fields that looked like pretty good wheat after the freezes and high winds had taken their toll early in the spring were later found to be dying with foot rot. This was true in many fields even after the rains had started the healthy wheat to growing in good shape. Some of these fields are not now worth harvesting even though there is a stand of wheat still on the ground.

Foot rot in wheat may be easily identified by the methods used by Dr. Lytton W. Boyle of the U. S. Department of Agriculture who is making a study of the disease in Randall county in cooperation with H. C. Adcock and other farmers. By pulling up a diseased plant and cutting through the exact center of the crown with a sharp pocket knife a brownish black colored spot is easily seen. Under the direction of Dr. Boyle, Mr. Adcock seeded wheat at seven different dates during the fall in an effort to determine the relation between the development of the disease and the time of planting. It seems to be a pretty well settled fact that the early seed wheat is much more affected than the late. These

Cut Johnson Grass Before It Has Seeded

There is more Johnson grass in Randall county than ever before. It has grown rapidly since the heavy rains. Citizens state that there is enough Johnson grass growing in the Canyon neighborhood to seed the whole county and that unless it is cut at once most land will be seeded by this grass next year.

Farmers are urged to cut this grass at once.

The State Highway Commission has ordered Johnson grass cut on the right-of-ways of all highways.

J. D. Smith Is New Tester For R. C. H. I. Ass'n

J. D. Smith of Midlothian, Texas, has been named as official tester for the Randall County Herd Improvement Association, succeeding C. B. Ray, who resigned last week to accept a position at A. & M. College.

The new tester arrived in Canyon Tuesday and has assumed his duties in connection with the testing for the county association.

Rain of .29 Tuesday Night Falls Over Most of County

Rain amounting to .29 of an inch fell in Canyon Tuesday night. The rain varied in amount over the county, but practically all of the county was covered by the rainfall.

Farming activities were not held up long by the rain.

The harvest is progressing very well over the county, but the wheat is suffering from the heavy growth of weeds.

Clovis Stafford in Jail for Theft of Farm Machinery

Deputy Sheriff Bob Barnett arrested Clovis Stafford 15 miles south of Friona Sunday and recovered a truck load of farm machinery belonging to Glen Costley and J. E. Dickerson, both residing north of the city. Stafford was brought here, placed under a $3,000 bond and is held in jail.

Stafford has three brothers, all of whom are now under arrest for theft. Two of them are in jail in Farwell and one of them at Dimmitt. All will be brought here and charged with the theft of the farm machinery in order to hold them under bond.

All of the machinery which was lost from the Costley and Dickerson farms was recovered and returned to the owners.

Miss Shirley Shook visited over the week-end with friends in Clarendon.

BERNHARDT TO APPEAR HERE NEXT WEEK

FAMOUS CONTRALTO HAS GIVEN MANY CONCERTS

Lyceum Committee is Fortunate In Securing Singer For an Appearance Here.

Next Wednesday night at 8:15, Louise Bernhardt, contralto, will be presented at the College Auditorium as the third number of the summer lyceum course.

Miss Bernhardt who is young and blonde and charming, spent her girlhood in Melrose, Massachusetts, the home town of Geraldine Farrar. Here from earliest childhood she saw and heard that great singer. However, it was her speaking voice which first called attention to H. Wellington Smith to her, and it was he who discovered she had a voice and helped her to develop it.

Since that time her progress has been unbelievably rapid. In 1927, '28, and '29 she was a member of the American Opera Company. In 1930 she won the Walter M. Naumburg Musical Foundation Prize. In 1931 she won the first prize of the Biennial Convention National Federation of Music Clubs, and in 1931-32 she was a member of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

She has made two coast to coast concert tours, totalling 80 concerts from Boston, New York, and Washington to Los Angeles, Portland and Oklahoma City.

Press notices from every city have hailed her as an outstanding contralto and the lyceum committee of the college feels most fortunate in securing her for a program. It was only because she was passing through that she could be secured for Canyon, since the cost of such an attraction would ordinarily be prohibitive.

In order to make it possible for all who wish to attend to do so the admission price has been set at 75 cents for those who do not have activity tickets.

Professor Savage states that he expects fifteen or twenty counties with approximately 1,000 teachers to take part in the institute which will be held the first week of September.

Outstanding speakers are being secured for the occasion.

Clean Alleys So Weeds May Be Cut Now!

Weed cutting campaign is on in Canyon!

The city will start a mowing machine in the alleys this week with a view of cutting all of the weeds, for the benefit of the looks of the city, and for the benefit and health of the citizens.

Citizens are asked to co-operate with the weed cutting campaign by cleaning up their alleys, picking up the tin cans, wire and other things in the alleys and burning all trash so that the mowing machine will not be interferred with.

J. B. Greenfield is in charge of this work and will cut the weeds in the alleys as rapidly as possible.

Chas. N. Shaver Is Visitor—State Supt. of Public Instruction

Chas. N. Shaver, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, spent last night in the city, and this morning met a large number of the teachers at the College, together with students in the institution. He is making a campaign for election for the first term to the office to which he was appointed in April, succeeding S. M. N. Marrs, deceased.

Mr. Shaver is an experienced public school official, trained in the public schools and colleges of Texas. He has first-hand knowledge of the Texas school system from the one-teacher school to the higher educational institutions.

As a member of the legislature for two terms, Mr. Shaver gained first-hand information as to the educational needs of Texas, serving on both the appropriations committee and on the education committee of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Shaver is advocating an impartial and constructive administration of the school system of Texas.

Ed Weeks made a visit to Chillicothe over the week end. Mrs. Weeks, who has been visiting relatives there and in south Texas, returned home with him.

Chamber Commerce Will Be Host With All Candidates Here

One of the largest crowds to ever attend a political rally in Canyon is expected for Saturday night, when the county-wide Candidate Rally to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be held. Early indications this week point to a good turn-out of candidates for district offices and representatives from the Panhandle Headquarters of State candidates.

The rally will be held in open air in the street just east of the Methodist Church. The church is preparing for a revival to begin Sunday, and the use of the seating arrangement has been offered the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of holding the rally.

Candidates will be limited to the amount of time they will be allowed to speak. Representatives of state candidates and the district candidates will be allowed 10 minutes each in which to present their issues. County and precinct candidates will be given 5 minutes each. The speakers will be introduced in the order in which their names will appear on the official ballot.

The rally will begin at 8:00 o'clock. In the event that the Buffalo Band is available for Saturday night, the Band will play a short concert before the rally begins, Prof. C. E. Strain, director stated last night. However, he was not sure whether sufficient personnel of the Band would be available to play.

Immediately following the talks of the candidates, a pie supper will be held for the benefit of the Chamber of Commerce Museum Fund. Ladies are requested to bring a pie with them. The pies will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, with the limit of $1.00 being placed on the bidders. When the bids reach $1.00 the pie will be sold without further ballyhoo from the auctioneer.

"So far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned the drive for funds for the museum continues," states Fred E. Wortham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. "We do not intend to stop in assisting the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society even after the necessary amount is raised to start the work on the Museum building. There will be great need for money to furnish the building after it is completed. The money to be received from the sale of the pies Saturday night will be turn-

Women Anxious To Get Clubs Organized

Demonstration Agent Is Highly Pleased With Prospects

"Much enthusiasm is being displayed in home demonstration work and the women of the various communities have shown that they are indeed anxious to get the clubs organized and the active work started," said Miss Sadie Kate Bass, Randall County's new home demonstration agent, Tuesday. Miss Bass arrived Thursday to take up her duties in the county.

"Many women have already called at my office and are making plans to have their clubs ready to begin work on club projects within a very short time. The summer season, especially with the number of fine gardens that are maturing now offers an opportune time to begin canning projects that can be carried on into the fall. Vegetable canning can be started almost immediately, and fruits and meats at a later date. It looks as though the next few months are going to be busy ones for the women of Randall County."

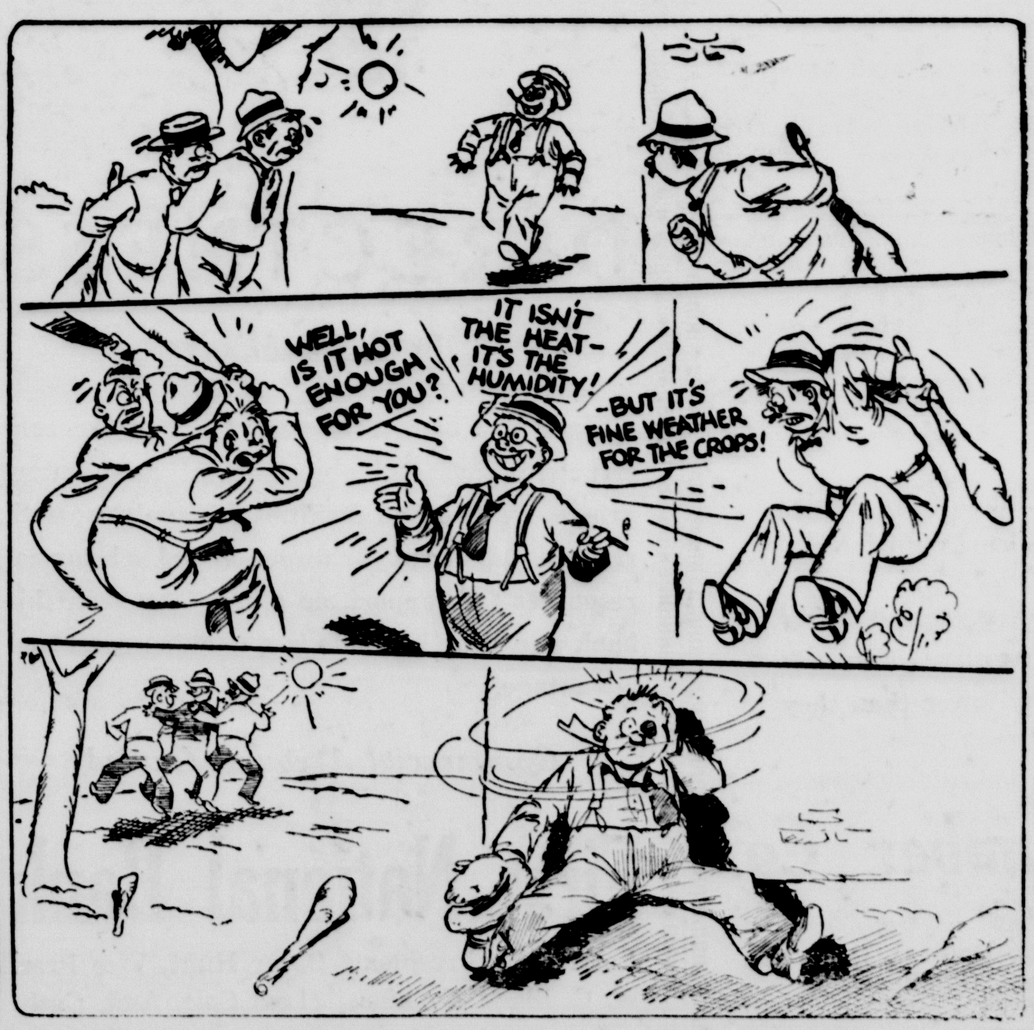
Miss Bass met with the women of the Tierra Blanca Community Wednesday, for the purpose of organizing a demonstration club. She is holding a meeting in the Parks Community today, and will meet with the women of Sunny Hill tomorrow (Friday). Saturday, she will be in her office in the county agent's department on the first floor of the court house. At the meeting of the clubs Miss Bass is giving in her initial talk, a demonstration of canning vegetables so that the club women may start their work at once.

The women of the county are invited to meet with Miss Bass Saturday in order to discuss the organization of clubs in their communities and to arrange dates for the home demonstration agent to meet with them. Miss Bass states that within a few weeks she hopes to have every ellgible woman in the county enrolled in one of the clubs.

Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, of College Station, district home demonstration agent, plans to be in Canyon, July 10th to confer with Miss Bass about her work.

Within a short time Miss Bass will have a private office in the southwest corner of the first floor of the court house. A door is being cut and a special office arranged for demonstration work.

THE FIRST CASUALTY OF THE HOT WEATHER SEASON



Museum Fund Is Short by $1,700

Completion of Fund by End of This Week Is Goal

The fund for the Museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society was $1,700 short of the $25,000 goal Saturday when Prof. L. F. Sheffy reported to the directors of the Society as to the progress of the money raising campaign. July 1st was set as the date for getting all of the money in the banks, and the above amount was lacking when Mr. Sheffy had collected from those who were able to make their payments.

"The money must be collected and in the banks before serious consideration is given to the erection of the Museum building," stated Mr. Sheffy. "We have a number of subscriptions, which are not yet paid, but will still need a few hundred dollars of new money before the $25,000 fund is completed. The loss of a few subscriptions made a few months ago is responsible for most of the shortage in the funds at the present time.

The building committee of the Society has been called to meet Saturday in Amarillo to see if the funds cannot be completed at once, and to make inspection of the plans for the building. Dr. J. A. Hill will return from Atlantic City Friday. W. H. Patrick of Clarendon has been away on business and Judge H. E. Hoover has been to the Democratic National convention at Chicago, which made it impossible for the committee to have a meeting at an earlier time.

Officers of the Society wish to emphasize the necessity of having the cash in the banks at once, as nothing definite can be done until the cash is raised and turned over to the State Board of Control, which regulates the expenditure of this money and the $25,000 appropriation which was made by the last session of the legisdlature.

A number of county commissioners courts have petitioned the Governor to call a special session of the legislature for one day to pass some kind of a bill to divert some of the gasoline tax to take up the bonded indebtedness of the county issued for highway construction. In view of the fact that the Governor vetoed such a bill, upon the advice of the attorney general and other lawyers that it would be unconstitutional, there is not likelihood of such a session this year. The governor is impressed with the necessity of a constitutional amendment for this purpose. There now remains no doubt of the necessity of such a movement, and with past experiences of long drawn out legal battles over unconstitutional bills, or bills thought to be unconstitutional, the safest and wisest method will be to await the regular session of the legislature in January, pass the constitutional amendment to the people, and be assured that relief will come and be permanent in nature.

For many years past, The News has warned the voters against last minute appeals by candidates who seek to win office by casting reflection on the deeds or characters of their opponents. If a candidate feels himself slipping and grasps as a sinking man at some straw of hope, he thinks he will find it in attacking the character of his opponent. The fact that he waits until the last minute to use such materials brands his statements in the eyes of a thinking man as being absolutely false. If the candidate has really worth while information that would cause his opponent to be wholly unqualified let him bring it forth before the end of the campaign. No office is worth a campaign of lies and the winner in the long run, always loses the office if won through deceit. Beware of campaign falsehoods, which are brought forth the last week of the campaign.

With the inspection of tax measures of local nature, the people of Texas are becoming more and more convinced that a constitutional amendment allowing home rule, with consolidation of departments of the counties, schools and cities is the only real hope for tax relief in the state. Local taxes are the chief burden of the people, most of which were voted by the people upon themselves during the abnormally good period. Now they are beginning to wonder why it is that in every county there are separate administrative goxernments for the county, city and school, when one well functioning local government would and could do the work. Duplication of all efforts, local, state and national, must be wiped out before there will be genuine reduction of taxes.

Prediction generally over the country is that this will be a Democratic year, if the party will get behind the leaders. Not everything about the convention was pleasing to any one person. The wet plank does not suit a lot of people, but the Republican party offers nothing better, having completely failed in the enforcement of the prohibition laws under both Coolidge and Hoover. The leaders are not acceptable to every one, but on the whole it was the best ticket that could be elected. Democracy belives in the rule of the majority, therefore staying with the ticket should be the response of every Democrat this year, and assist the party to win in the November election.

The new 3 cent postage law went into effect yesterday. If Canyon had a free delivery system, you would have to pay three cents on every letter mailed for city distribution, but as we do not have that system 1 cent on city letters still prevails. This is the last of new tax measures passed by congress to become effective.

"A SERVING CHURCH" IS SUBJECT OF UNION

The lesson subject for the Baptist Adult Union at the meeting Sunday evening, July 3, was "A Serving Church."

The study hour was opened with a five minute devotional and the song, "More Like the Master." Scripture readings from Acts 2, 41:47, and Acts 19, 9:20 were given by two members of the group with brief comments by the president, Mrs. W. E. Hardin.

Attention was called to the churches at Jerusalem and Ephesus as examples of working churches, and a prayer for a greater zeal for service in this church was given.

Bible drill was lead by Mrs. Hardin and the following topics were discussed by members of the union:

"Service in Maintaining Moral Standards"—Mrs. G. B. Heath.

"Service in Promoting Public Welfare"—Mrs. S. H. Jones.

"Service in Helping the Needy"—Mrs. R. W. Ratcliff.

"Service in Helping the Distressed"—Mrs. W. E. Rees.

More Birds Here Than Ever Before Says Observers

Nature observers here declare that there are more birds this year in this locality than ever before since the coming of the earliest settlers.

Mocking birds, yellow-billed cuckoos, cardinals, doves, titmice and several varieties of sparrows are especially abundant. A large number of blackbird nests have been discovered and wrens, evening grosbeaks, blue grosbeaks, blue jays, several kinds of woodpeckers and other birds have been observed.

The increase in birds is presumably due to the increase in trees, vines and shrubbery and also to the posting of property which offered protection. There is a large game and bird refuge adjacent to Palo Duro Canyon, Palo Duro Park is protected, and the property of the Canyon Country Club and the adjoining G. W. Cox ranch are posted against all kinds of arms.

A large number of feeding trays were maintained here last winter thus conserving the birds.

U. S. Has Real "No Man's Land" Which Foreign Country Might Claim

IF an explorer from a foreign land was to raise his flag on a certain tract of land in Colorado and claim it for his country, there is nothing much, technically, that the United States could do about it.

And if this same foreign nation wanted to float its navy on Colorado's Grand Lake, the United States, it seems, would just have to "grin and bear it." Because a little 1500 square mile strip of territory 50 miles from Denver is ownerless. Government records, at least, fail to reveal that the United States or anyone else ever has formally acquired title to this region.

It seems that in the 19th century, the United States' two great land acquisitions, the Louisiana Purchase and the Texas Annexation, failed to encompass this little strip of land.

The Louisiana Purchase on its western boundary followed the Arkansas river to the Continental Divide in Colorado, then east and north, encircling what is commonly known in Colorado as Middle Park. The Purchase joined what later was known as the Texas Annexation on Rabbit Ear Range.

The Annexation, made in 1845, followed the Gore and Rabbit Ear ranges and touched the Louisiana Purchase, but left an elliptical area which comprises the "no man's land."

Officials were of the opinion that possibly title to the area was secured at one time or other from the Ute Indians. Investigation, however, revealed that none of the treaties with the tribe mentioned the area. Apparently, they did not claim it.

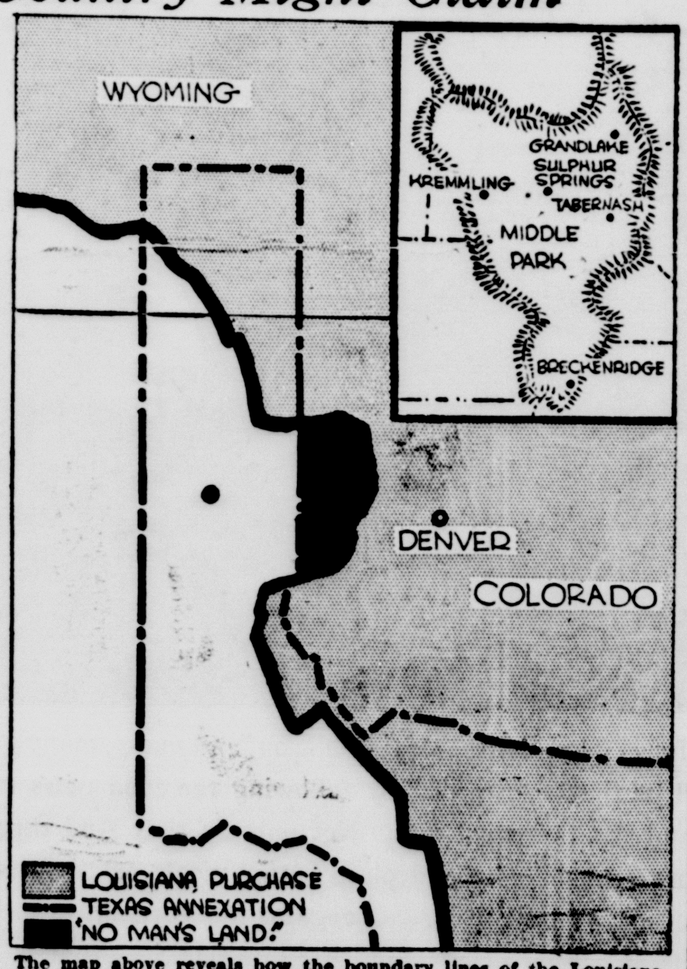
THE Middle Park area includes the towns of Sulphur Springs, Kremmling, Granby, Tabernash, Fraser, Dillon, Breckenridge and Grand Lake, and embraces the headwaters of the Colorado river, in one of the most important livestock and head lettuce areas of the state.

Theoretically, life-long residents of this region, not having been born in the United States and never having lived there, can hardly be United States citizens. If they wanted to, therefore, they could organize an independent nation.

Another unique possibility is that the president of the United States could send out an exploring expedition to find the land, raise the United States flag and claim it in the name of the republic.

Although title to Colorado's "no man's land" seems non-existent, the United States has long exercised jurisdiction in the territory, and title may have been conferred by that reason. But there has been no formal occupation of the territory, and no military base has ever been established, though American troops frequently pass over the region.



The map above reveals how the boundary lines of the Louisiana Purchase and the Texas Annexation failed to include a 1500-quare mile strip of land near Denver, Colo., which is the "no man's land" of the United States. Inset is a detailed map of the Middle Park district.

Annual Testing Summary Shows Much Progress

The testing year for the Randall County Dairy Herd Improvement Association closed with the month of May. Some interesting facts are seen in the completed record books of the members.

Fifty cows from 11 herds were placed on the annual honor roll for the production of either 10,000 pounds of milk or 400 pounds of butterfat, or both, for the year. Nine of the fifty honor roll cows produced over 10,000 pounds of milk and 48 of them produced over 400 pounds of butterfat each.

The average production of the 50 honor roll cows was 455 pounds of butterfat each for the year.

Five cows, all grade jerseys, from two herds, made over 500 pounds of fat. One of these, a cow owned by J. W. Watson, produced 640 pounds of butterfat and 14,089 pounds of milk for high place among all the cows tested for the year. The high herd for the year, owned by H. R. Fulton, made a herd average of 410 pounds of butterfat. 19 cows in this herd placed on the annual honor roll. Every cow failing to make 300 pounds of fat in the first nine months on test was culled out of the herd. Mr. Fulton raises all his own cows. Every one of the 44 cows except one was bred and dropped on the farm. He practices straight line breeding, having used three bulls in succession that were sired by the same proven sire.

Four herds containing 135 cows culled 25 cows during the year. These four herds are among the high producing herds of the Association.

Four herds in the association have herd averages above 300 lbs. of butterfat.

The following herd owners have cows making the necessary production to be included on the annual honor roll: H. R. Fulton, Tierra Blanca Jersey Farm, J. W. Watson, H. B. Hales, J. P. Upchurch, C. C. Stewart, L. J. Fulton, and J. E. Park and Son. The average production of all cows in the county is perhaps about 200 pounds of butterfat annually. The cost of feeding a dairy cow is considerably lower than last year. Feed cost will average something like $40.00 per year. 200 pounds of butterfat at 11c per pound figures $22.00 or about $18.00 less than nothing for care and return for labor and investment. It seems to be more important than ever for the farmer to know the kind of cows he is milking. The cows producing 400 pounds of fat still show a small return over feed cost, even at the present low markets.

Revival Meeting to Start Sunday at Methodist Church

We will begin a two weeks Revival at the Methodist Church, Sunday, July 10. Rev. R. J. Parker, Presiding Elder of the Mexican District of El Paso, Texas, will do the preaching, and Miss Mattie Mae Swisher of Canyon will lead in the music.

We have been granted permission by the city authorities to close the street just east of the church from Fourth Avenue to the alley, and will seat it as we did last year for our evening services. It will be convenient and comfortable for all. We are expecting great crowds and are, therefore, making every preparation to take care of them.

Sunday evening you will hear two or three special numbers rendered by one of the best male quartets you have ever heard. We will make much of music and congregational singing al through the meeting.

We respectfully invite every person in town whether you are a Christian or not to co-operate with us in a great revival effort. These are times when people are discouraged and are faint at heart. Let us all get closer to God. He alone can show us the way out.

You will like Rev. Parker. He is one of our best equipped and valuable men of our Methodism.

Start in with us Sunday and stay with us through the entire campaign.

C. E. JAMESON, Pastor.

College Studes Organize Clubs To Benefit W. T.

Students of many counties are organizing at the West Texas State Teachers College today to carry forward the interests of the college when they become ex-students at the end of the summer. Many of the county groups are also arranging for social events while they are in Canyon.

Hall county elected Herbert Gipson and Vera Gilbreath, president and secretary; Briscoe elected Annetta Johnson and A. A. Brock; Foard, Cottle and Hardeman elected Otis Rawlins and Mrs. Ruby Biddy; Potter elected Carl G. Clift and Miss Wealtha Johnson.

Crosby, Lynn, Garza and Lubbock counties elected Miss Minnie Hood and Miss Winnie Altman; Terry, Cochran and Hockley chose Joe Shelton and Gladys Scales; Randall county elected Rex Roby, president.

Gray county chose Lurline Bowman and Emmitt Smith; Ochiltree county elected H. P. Collins and May Powell; Wilbarger elected S. P. Vick; Collingsworth elected Roscoe Trostle. Scurry county elected C. S. Harris and Victor Drinkard, and Pat Gerald was chosen leader for Carson county.

W. W. Wallace was chosen leader of the New Mexico delegation.

Superintendent Irby Carruth of Canyon was in charge of the meeting which resulted in the forming of county organizations on the campus; he was assisted by L. N. George, field secretary of the Ex-students association.

Idleness in a prison breeds vice and disorder and means a moral, physical and mental breakdown, eventually sending men out into society absolutely unfitted to make their way on even terms with their fellowmen.—Dr. Frederic J. Farnell, Chairman Public Welfare Commission, Rhode Island.

In order to live, I am up every day at 6:30 a. m., and while this will be a jolt to those who think of movie stars as dozing until afternoon in thousand-dollar negligees on leopard-skin rugs, my hours are no better than those of clock-punchers everywhere.—Marie Dressler, movie actress.

With Aces Like Wykoff, Tolan, Simpson, Toppino, Metcalfe, Kiesel and Bennett, Uncle Sam's Chances in the Olympic Sprints Look Very Bright

BY PHILIP MARTIN

IT doesn't pay to be too cocky, but it appears that one can be pardoned for enthusiasm over your Uncle Sam's chances to win sprint victories in the coming Olympic games at Los Angeles.

With such men as Wykoff, Tolan, Simpson and Toppino of the so-called old guard, and these fast-stepping newcomers, Metcalfe, Kiesel and Bennett, it really doesn't seem possible that any foreign nation can again turn us away from success.

Back in 1924 and 1928, you may remember, our chances also appeared rosy. We had Paddock and Scholz back from the 1920 team when the group sailed for Paris. Again, in 1928 they were the two veterans in a group that included Wykoff, Bracey, Russell, McAllister, Cumming and Borah.

You remember what happened. A tall Jewish boy in the colors of Great Britain, his name was H. M. Abrahams, ran away with the 100 meters championship in 1924. Scholz was able to save our hides in the 200 meters. Then four years later we were completely shut out when Percy Williams, the Canadian schoolboy marvel, ran to a pair of thrilling truimphs in the 100 and 200-meter races.

I REPEAT, it doesn't seem likely that will happen this year. The records of our speed merchants this spring and summer are too impressive.

Of the 1932 crop, I confess to a liking for the chances of Metcalfe, the big negro sophomore from Chicago and Marquette University. If any of our speed demons can win a double triumph as did Williams, he will be the one to do it.

Metcalfe has broken records for three of the standard sprint distances and has tied a fourth. On one afternoon recently, he raced 100 yards in 9.5 seconds, equaling the official world record. He was timed for the 100 meters in 10.2 seconds, two-tenths of a second beneath the world record. He stepped over the 200-meter distance in 20.3 seconds to clip three-tenths of a second from the world standard and then continued through the full 220-yard distance in 20.5 seconds, one-tenth of a second under the world record.

From this it can be seen that Metcalfe is faster at the longer race, although it must be granted he's no slouch at the century. He's a big kid, 22 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. His ruggedness should stand him in good for preliminary, quarter-final, semi-final and final heats, which usually proves too great a strain for all but the strongest.

Not all the runners I have named can take the starting mark in the 100 and 200 meters. Only three from each country are chosen. Of the group that includes Metcalfe, Kiesel, Bennett, Wykoff, Tolan, Toppino and Simpson, which three would you choose for the two races?

Personally, I believe Wykoff will prove our ace in the 100 meters, with Toppino as second choice and Tolan as third. The last named is a great competitor, once he has rounded into condition. His running in the recent Michigan trials indicates he is reaching top form.

For the 200 meters, I believe Metcalfe, Tolan and Simpson will get the bid, although Kiesel and Bennett must be reckoned with, as well as Toppino.

I have not placed Metcalfe in the 100-meter dash. But should anything happen to Wykoff, Toppino or Tolan, he would be almost certain to get in. He may get in, anyway, by forcing one of them out of it.

CHEAP

By Peggy Caldwell.
Its price was such a trifle;
The glitter was so bright.
There in the display window
Beneath a clever light.
It seemed a very little sum,
Not very much to pay;
Yet my jewel's change was great
Out in the light of day.
There I saw the difference:
Its brightness of color had flown
And that which was a sparkling gem
Was just a worthless stone.

CANYON CITY CLUB NEWS

Bill Bryant says Plainview will be here Sunday at 1:30 o'clock to start the league game. He asks that all of the team be on time.

In the handicap tournament held last Sunday, Lee Foster won first place, Duflot second, Sanders and Hartman tied for third and fourth places with Kleinschmidt and Reeves tying for fifth and sixth.

The picnic the Fourth was not so well attended as was expected, however there was a fair size crowd who brought and ate a great amount of food, drank lots of lemonade and coffee and played golf most of the day.

Jimmie Gamewell attended the invitation tournament at Clarendon Saturday and Sunday, says they know how to play golf down there. Jimmie turned in three 69's, but that was not good enough to win in the championship flight. Elliott Hatch, the winner of the tournament closed Jimmie out 2 and 1, shooting a 66.

Happy has dropped out of the League, leaving Canyon and Hereford tied for last place.

Lee Foster got hot the Fourth and turned in a 33 on the front nine, missing a 32 by only a few inches on the last hole.

Wanted: Somebody to invent a ball that won't slice or hook. Ed Mickle says there would be a big market for such a ball.

L. N. George Says—

There is still some complaint about some of our out-of-date rooming houses, but less than of previous years. We must admit that we still have some eye-sores that are a handicap to our college and town, but possibly they will be eliminated by another year.

On the whole our group of summer students are well satisfied this year and most of them plan to return until they finish their work. This week students from the following counties, Brown, Scurry, Hansford, Ochiltree, Wheeler and Donley, were praising our college and town. One party who has been here for six summers says that he and his family look forward with a lot of pleasure to coming to Canyon. That his family enjoys the town and that he believes the college faculty is getting stronger and better from year to year.

Another student reports that he and his wife can live in Canyon and go to school cheaper than they can stay at home and not go to school.

The various counties are getting well organized and are planning some picnics for this summer. They are also scheduling banquets for this fall and winter. This is an ideal time for the people who have businesses here in Canyon to throw in with these groups and get acquainted. If you are from Wheeler county, join that group and boost for it. If you are from Childress county, join that group and do likewise for that group. May be we can have a joint picnic on the Campus some evening and all join in. I am for it.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Randall County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. J. Donovan, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Randall County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Canyon, Texas, on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1932, the same being the 1st day of August, A. D. 1932, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 22nd day of June A. D. 1932, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 1340, wherein Florence Donovan is Plaintiff, and J. J. Donovan is Defendant, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

Plaintiff sues for divorce, alleging that she has been for a period of more than twelve months prior to the filing of this petition an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in Randall County, Texas, for more than six months next preceding the filing of this petition; that plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on or about September 1, 1914, and continued to live together as husband and wife until about May 1st, 1916; that plaintiff during said time treated her husband with kindness and forebearance; that on or about May 1, 1916, defendant left and abandoned plaintiff and has never returned but has permanently abandoned her for more than fifteen consecutive years. Plaintiff alleges that defendant was guilty of excesses, cruel treatment, and outrages toward her, such as to render their living together insupportable; that shortly before he left plaintiff he slapped her and her two minor children to plaintiff's great grief and humiliation. Plaintiff alleges under oath that the residence of defendant is unknown to her and prays for citation by publication.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Canyon, Texas, on this 22nd day of June, A. D. 1932.

(Seal) BERL E. MAYFIELD,
Clerk, District Court,
Randall County, Texas.

V. L. Granville Gives Program This Evening

V. L. Granville, the distinguished English actor, who delighted his audience here about three years ago, will return tonight with a costumed recital which he calls Dramatic Interludes.

This is the second of the lyceum attractions brought by the College for the benefit of the summer students and townspeople. The admission price for those who do not have activity tickets is 75c. The recital will be given in the Main Auditorium at 8:15:

Mr. Granville makes up for his parts on the stage, thus giving his audience an opportunity to share in his stage secrets. Usually his introduction to the reading is given very informally while he is applying his makeup.

He is a strong and delightful reader whose interpretation of the principal characters from the drama of all time will please his hearers.

Foot Rot

experiments will be continued for several years, or until more definite data is available.

The control measures we recommend at this time is based on the killing out of the fungus in the soil by rotation of crops. It will not live in the soil without a host plant for more than from one to two years. Therefore it seems that wheat seeded after wheat is the thing most likely to favor the development of foot rot. The so-called winter grass so common in wheat fields is known to be a host plant. We have studied this wheat disease for the past three years and are convinced that more attention must be paid to it or we will be forced to plant something besides wheat.

Summer plowing after wheat, followed by a row crop the next year, followed by summer fallowing in preparation for two or three years to wheat again seems to be a pretty good scheme where the land owner does not want to follow a regular crop rotation with feed crops.

Candidates

ed over to the Historical Society through the Chamber of Commerce Museum Fund, which was set up recently.

"We promise an event worthwhile. The voters will be given an opportunity to see and hear the various candidates as well as learn of the issues in each race, which will thus enable them to better judge for themselves when the election day arrives. We plan to do this by limiting each speaker to his alloted time, keeping the meeting from becoming boresome to the listeners. Then the pie supper will afford a social feature for the program. Pie suppers in Canyon are somewhat rare and this one should be enjoyable to everyone present."

Special entertainment of an unusual nature is being planned as a part of the program.

Jowell Items

The combines are all busy in this community now but the wheat yield will be light.

Most everyone was too busy to celebrate the Fourth.

Late Sport Togs Combine Chic, Comfort

LACK OF SLEEVES FOR PLAYERS' SUITS, AND BUT A HINT OF THEM FOR SPECTATORS', NEWEST FASHION HINTS

BY HARRIET

SPORTS clothes, to get their lines across, must cater to chic without sacrificing anything in the way of comfort. You must look as cool and unruffed as the proverbial lettuce leaf when you watch a tennis set, and you must feel as nearly that way as possible. With that end in view, spectator sports dresses have decided that it is foolish to keep any tricks up their sleeves. For the most part they are removing the sleeves, leaving just the suggestion, or a few inches of one.

Utter sleevelessness is always the thing when you are participating in a sport. You require the utmost freedom to send the ball where you want it to go.

But when you belong to the group who sit in the shade and watch, you strike a much more graceful note if you cover the armpit. There is something startling that isn't graceful about a sudden arm revelation. Mystery has been revived in the last few fashion years. Even sports clothes know it.

ONE dress that will win you plenty of admiration is a slim white frock that buttons in a capelet shoulder collar. The frock, which is patterned on slim, straight lines, is fashioned from a new, rough crepe made of rayon and silk, which has a two-way crinkle and a cord-like twist. If you decide suddenly that you want to get into the sport, whatever it is, all you have to do to be ready, is unbutton the buttons with their gay striped decorations, remove the cape, and become a participant instead of a spectator The frock has a narrow belt, placed at the natural waistline, which is adorned with two of the same bright buttons.

White sports shoes, white pull-on gloves, and a small white hat are interesting accessories.

For the afternoons when you want to go shopping, calling, or stop at the club to watch the sports, nothing is more appropriate than a sports frock which carries its stripes in a slim, intriguing manner The dress in the illustration uses the stripes in various effects which work into an harmonious whole.

The frock is designed to cut a high-bosom accent, has a small collar and turn-back cuffs, and a soft tie. The material is a new crepe combination of rayon and silk, called Tuckette. The stripes are raised like tucks, giving added interest to the design.

The spectator sports dress shown at left is of a new rough crepe made of rayon and silk, with a two-way crinkle and a cord-like twist. This dress may be converted into an active sports frock by removing the detachable cape. The tailored frock at right is for street or spectator sports wear. Its fabric likewise is of a new rayon-silk crepe, with stripes raised like tucks.

A. B. MARTIN

Present Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, appointed April, 1932. Candidate to succeed himself at the coming Democratic Primaries.

His recent appointment was unopposed, and was made in recognition of the distinguished record he made as an Appellate Court Judge at Austin. He lives in the southern part of the Judicial District which contains more than one-third of the population. It has been the custom to select the three judges of this court from different parts of the district, which comprises forty-six counties.

The following are excerpts from some of the newspaper comments made at the time of his recent appointment:

"* * * his decisions in style and texture and force won for him a high place among the lawyers and litigants of Texas. * * * In his boyhood he brushed his way thru the snow to the little red school house from his home where he obtained the first rudiments of an education and in time became one of the scholars and successful lawyers of the land that was a wilderness when his father first invaded it to wrest from nature its virgin soil and to build a home for his dependents and those who came after him."—The Austin American.

"When he moved to Austin he resigned from the board of regents of the state teachers' colleges, on which he had served for ten years. He brought to that board a broad understanding of the problems of the boys and girls from the homes of the common people of Texas. * * * His struggle for an academic education and for preparation for the profession of law was not forgotten by him while he served the state on the board of regents of the teachers' colleges. In 1920 he created a loan fund at West Texas State Teachers' College for the use of poor boys and girls, retaining supervision of the fund during his life time. It has grown to approximately $3,000.00, has aided more than a hundred boys and girls. * * *"—The Plainview Herald.

"Selection of Hon. A. B. Martin of Plainview, as associate justice of Court of Civil Appeals of the Seventh Texas District at Amarillo, is a pleasing one to South Plains people. A former commissioner of Criminal Appeals at Austin, as a practicing attorney and a prominent citizen of Plainview and this area, Mr. Martin has made an enviable record. He typifies the right kind of man for the post to which he succeeds."—The Lubbock Avalanche.

DUPONT MAN VISITS PAINT STATION HERE

THERE ARE FOUR EXPERIMENT STATIONS IN U. S.

Mr. J. I. Iliff of the E. I. Dupont de Nemours and Co., was here Thursday inspecting the paint experiment station maintained here by the DuPont Co.

The paint racks are located on the T-Anchor Ranch north of town. This is one of the four experiment stations of its kind in the United States, the others being located in Delaware, Florida, and Colorado.

There are about 3,000 pounds of paint now on exposure. The purpose of the test is to determine a good paint for a cheap wood, and to correct such faults as cracking and flaking.

Henry Whitley, a senior in W. T., has charge of the station until June, 1933. Previous to Mr. Whitley, James Kennedy was in charge. A student is selected by Dr. C. A .Pierle each year. This student is usually a senior with a chemistry major.

The station was established here in June, 1931, for a term of five years with an option of renewal for five years. There is one rack placed in Borger for a special study of that particular atmosphere.

Mr. Iliff was pleased with the manner in which the local work had been carried on.

YUCCA BLOOMS

By Elvia Davenport.

Low hills age old, they stand,
Sun-stained with yellow lights and red
And purple, . . . grandeur of forgotten dead
Cities, young with Babylon and Samarkand.

Vast plains, long plains windswept and white
Lie still when soft the night
Looks down where once . . . ah, who can know? . . .
In splendid state a princes' cavalcade marched forth
And bright eyes watched it go.

Dust, desert ashes, lifeless wastes,
Memory of lost greatness but a wraith . . .
The gray wolf calls, the owl comes from his tomb,
And nothing but the yellow moonlight brings
A glory from the past in yucca blooms.
